🎤 Overview

Once the beloved voice of Creative Force Wrestling, Venessa Vale was the smiling face fans trusted — the one who made every wrestler feel larger than life. Warm, sincere, and endlessly likable, she was the bridge between the chaos in the ring and the crowd who lived for it.

That all changed at Locked In.

Dragged into the darkness by MAR himself, Venessa was forced to watch the Black Tape. No one knows exactly what she saw — only that the woman who walked away wasn't the same. The sweetness in her voice was replaced with conviction. The light in her eyes dimmed to something sharper. She didn't just lose innocence that night — she gained purpose.

Now aligning herself with The SEERS, Venessa speaks with eerie calm and unshakable belief. She trains in silence. Watches. Studies. When she finally steps into official competition, she promises to fight not for fame or victory — but for revelation.

In-Ring Style (Training)

Still untested officially, but under The SEERS' guidance she's developed a dynamic, adaptive offense — crisp striking, fluid counters, and eerie patience. She doesn't rush her opponents; she waits for their truths to surface.
