- 📍 Brooklyn, New York
  - 📏 5'0"
  - ⚖️ 105 lbs
  - 🎂 Age: 25
  - ⭐ Debut: 2020 (Neon Dojo NYC)
  - 📄 Contract Status: Signed – CFW

⚡ Overview

You hear the bass drop. You see the lights pop. And then she appears — spinning, strutting, sunglasses on in the middle of the night.

That's Sudio.

Equal parts Sasha Banks, Lady Gaga, and whiplash, Sudio blends glam-punk flamboyance with unpredictable, high-speed offense. She comes from the east coast Neon Dojo scene — a DIY wrestling collective known more for attitude than polish — and took the underground by storm with her electric charisma and walk-the-razor's-edge confidence.

But don't let the glitter and fringe fool you — Sudio is a fighter. She's been underestimated her whole life, and she uses that like jet fuel.

She's unorthodox. She's expressive. And when the bell rings, she moves like a pinball with a grudge.

Now in CFW, she's not just here to stand out.

She's here to take over.

Style & Strengths

- High-speed striker with unpredictable rhythm and dazzling agility
  - Uses unorthodox movements and misleading body language to disorient opponents
  - Surprisingly tough — takes hits like a crash test dummy and keeps coming
  - Confidence weaponized — can steal momentum and crowd energy in seconds

Signature Traits

- Always wears loud colors, wild hair, and expressive, mismatched gear
  - Often enters dancing — but goes cold the second the opponent looks away
  - Known for trash-talking mid-match with pop culture references and insults
  - Says she “wrestles in color because the world fights in grayscale”

Finishing Move

Color Rush – A spinning heel kick off the ropes into a snapmare driver

- Fast, loud, and theatrical — a highlight reel finish every time.

Notable Moments

- CFW: Black Light Ep 1 – Debuted with a backstage promo that immediately turned heads for its sincerity and swagger
  - Referred to as “the human glitch in the matrix” by an indie commentator in 2022
  - Holds the Neon Dojo record for most crowd-funding merch sold in a single night
  - Once did a moonsault off a vending machine at an unsanctioned warehouse show — and landed it perfectly

 Quote

“Let them doubt me. I turn disrespect into entrance music.”
