⚡ Overview

Rokkit is pure spark. A short, spunky fireball who hits the stage like her big brother, Reign Rokk, but plays her own tune in the ring. Where he's thunder, she's lightning — darting, relentless, and fearless.

Having grown up around the chaos of Detroit's underground music and wrestling scenes, Rokkit carries that same raw, unfiltered energy into CFW. She's smaller than most, but what she lacks in size, she makes up for in heart, speed, and sheer refusal to quit.

Recently promoted to the main roster, she's become a crowd favorite almost instantly — the underdog who won't stay down, the rookie who keeps swinging no matter the odds. Fans rally behind her because she's exactly what she looks like: the kid who refuses to stop dreaming, even in a fight.

Style & Strengths

- High-energy striker with bursts of quick offense
 - Scrappy underdog — thrives on fighting from underneath
 - Unorthodox but creative, often improvises in high spots
 - Absorbs punishment and keeps pushing, fueled by crowd energy

Signature Traits

- Colorful, glam-punk inspired gear — vibrant and mismatched, always loud
 - Enters with frantic energy, bouncing around the ring before the bell
 - Known for fiery comebacks when fans rally behind her
 - Proudly calls herself "Detroit's Little Rocket" — short fuse, big blast

Finishing Move

Rocket Launch — A top-rope meteora, crashing down knees-first into the chest of a grounded opponent

- Small frame + high speed = explosive impact

Notable Moments

- Recently moved from the CFW developmental circuit to the main roster
- Nearly upset Dana Crush in her first featured singles match, earning crowd respect despite defeat
- Frequently teams or interacts with her older brother, Reign Rokk, though she's determined to carve her own identity

- Known for rallying some of the loudest “C-F-DUB!” chants when she’s in trouble mid-match

 Quote

“I don’t care how big they are — light the fuse and watch me fly.”
